COVER PICTURE

This is a Farmer

Farmers are found in fields plowing up, seeding down, returning from, planting to, fertilizing with, spraying for and harvesting if. Wives help them, little boys follow them, the Agricultural Department confuses them, city relatives visit them, meals wait for them, weather can delay them, but it takes Heaven to stop them.

When your car stalls along the way, a farmer is a considerate, courteous, inexpensive road service. When a farmer's wife suggests he buy a new suit, he can quote from memory every expense involved in operating the farm last year, plus the added expense he is certain will crop up this year. Or else he assumes the role of the indignant shopper, impressing upon everyone within earshot the pounds of pork he must produce in order to pay for a suit at today's prices.

A farmer is a paradox - he is an "overalled" executive with his home his office; a scientist using fertilizer attachments; a purchasing agent in an old straw hat; a personnel director with grease under his fingernails; a dietitian with a passion for alfalfa, animals and antibiotics; a production expert faced with a surplus and a manager battling the price-cost squeeze. He manages more capital than most of the businessmen in town.

He likes sunshine, good food, state fairs, dinner at NOON, auctions, his neighbors, Saturday nights in town, his shirt collar unbuttoned, and above all a good soaking rain in July.

He is not much for droughts, ditches, through-ways, experts, weeds, the eight-hour day, helping with the housework, or grasshoppers.

Nobody else can remove all those things from his pockets and on washday still have overlooked: five "steeples", one cotter key, a rusty spike, three grains of wheat, the stub end of a pencil, a square tape, a $4.98 pocket watch and a cupful of chaff in each trouser cuff.

A farmer is both Faith and Fatalist - he must have faith to continually meet the challenges of his capacities amid an ever-present possibility that an act of God (a late spring, an early frost, tornado, flood, drought) can bring his business to a standstill. You can reduce his acreage but you can't restrain his ambition.

Might as well put up with him - he is your friend, your competitor, your customer, your source of food and fibre, and self-reliant young citizens to replenish your cities.

He is your countryman - a denim-dressed, business-wise, fast-growing statesman of stature.

And when he comes in at noon having spent the energy of his hopes and dreams, he can be recharged anew with the magic words: The Market's Up!

EDITOR'S NOTE: Our thanks to United Farmers' Delegate from the Rockyview North Area, Mr. Harry Dunn, who was kind enough to bring this article from an Illinois newspaper to our attention.

Manager
Falher Farm Supply Centre*

A Fanfare For Falher

The opening at United Farmers' Falher Farm Supply Centre ran, from Thursday, April 17, to Saturday, April 26. More about the official opening will be in the May United Farmer.

On staff at Falher are Mr. Paul Labrecque, Manager; Mr. Roland Coderre, Salesman; and Mr. George Schramm, Head Warehouseman.

History

The Village of Falher was named after Father C. Falher, O.M.I. a Roman Catholic missionary. Falher is a town which has grown around a centre of French Canadian settlement. The parish of Falher was established at the beginning of June, 1912. The Falher district extends a width of seven miles, 20 miles south to the Little Smoky river and north to the Nampa district.

Falher is a bright and attractive town with its wide paved or gravelled streets, and modern stores. The surrounding country is flat, open land, with only a few acres of trees and bush remaining. The town lies 42 miles south of Peace River and is situated on highway 49, three miles west of Donnelly Corner. Falher is served by rail, truck, and bus. Communication services include telephone, telegraph, teletype, post office, television, and a weekly newspaper. Falher also has a Municipal air strip.

Grain Handling Capacity

Falher has five large grain elevators, with a capacity of 750,000 bushels. These are the most modern grain handling facilities in Alberta.

Hunting

Falher is a centre of excellent goose, duck and big game hunting.

Local Resources

Wheat and coarse grains, grass seed, forage crops, cattle, hogs, dairy products and honey; also sand and gravel.

Grass seed production brings over one million dollars a year to the Falher area. Main seeds grown are Altaswede, Alsike, and Sweet Clover, Alfalfa, Creeping Red Fescue, and others.

Falher is known as the "Honey Capital" of Canada. There are over 35,000 beehives in the region, and production is over four million pounds of honey per year.

Donnelly, Alberta is Paul Labrecque's home town. He was raised on a farm and is familiar with most aspects of the farming industry.

Paul worked in a farm implement dealership for several years as partsman and salesman. For the last two years he worked as an apprentice construction electrician.

Our new manager at the Falher Farm Supply Centre is bilingual. Having been raised in Donnelly, Alberta, which is a neighbour to Falher, he is very familiar with the country and well known to many of our member-owners in that area.

Paul enjoys hunting, fishing, and camping. He is also interested in numismatics (we looked it up in the dictionary — it means coin collecting).

Our best wishes to Paul Labrecque, the new Manager of the Falher Farm Supply Centre, for every success in his new position.

Citizenship Awards

United Farmers was again honored as the winner in the 1968 Campaign Awards in the 1968 United Fund campaign.

Since the formation of the United Fund seven years ago, 530 employee groups have in various and successive years qualified for 1,756 individual awards.

Campaign Awards for outstanding citizenship are determined in this manner:

1. 80% of the employees of a firm with a staff of 10 or more must have made a contribution to the employees campaign.
2. The per capita average of all employed personnel (including executive), must be $12.00 or more.

The United Fund of Calgary represents 35 non profit health, welfare, and character building agencies that jointly ask for support once a year. Through the sale campaign the agencies which annually help one of every three residences in Calgary, receive the financial support they need to continue vital services to persons of all ages. Money raised is spent at the lowest possible cost to the contributor because wasteful duplication in an individual agency campaign is eliminated, 93 cents of every one dollar of the giver's contribution can be spent directly for agency services.

A grand total of $1,915 was raised this year by the personnel of United Farmers. The trophy is on display at the Calgary Farm Supply Centre. The team effort by Head Office and the Farm Supply Centre at Calgary certainly put United Farmers over the top in the United Fund campaign - for the third year in succession.

A special salute to Carl Mierlo and Don Newborn for their tremendous efforts in generating a response from all personnel so that we "did go over the top".

CREDIT UNION

A credit union is a group of people with a common bond, who save their money together, and from this pool of savings make low-cost loans to one another.

What do you mean by "a common bond"?

A common bond may be working for the same employer, living in the same community, attending the same church, having the same profession, or belonging to the same union, lodge, or other association.

How does a Credit Union differ from a bank?

A credit union serves only its members; it may not accept savings from or make loans to the general public as a bank does. A credit union is owned and operated by its members, while a bank is owned by its shareholders.

How Does A Credit Union Promote Thrift?

By encouraging its members to save regularly, even in small amounts, as payments of shares or deposits in the credit union.

How Are Dividends Calculated?

Generally, the members declare dividends on fully paid shares at each annual meeting, based on recommendations of the Board of Directors.

Are Withdrawals Permitted?

Yes, a member may withdraw savings any day the credit union is open for business.

Are Credit Union Savings Insured As Well As Loans?

Yes. The life of an insurable member may be insured in an amount equal to his or her savings to a maximum of $2,000 up to age 55. Savings accumulated between 55 and 70 are insured on a percentage basis. The premium for this insurance is paid by the credit union, and coverage continues in effect as long as savings remain in the credit union. On the death of a member, the insurance is added to his or her savings.

EXPANSION DAYS LETHBRIDGE

BEHIND THE SCENES

by Fay Lowther

Administration Clerk

United Farmers'

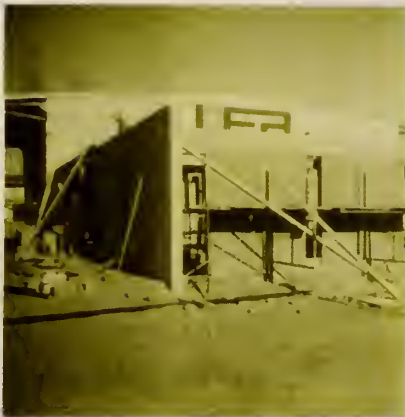

Lethbridge Farm Supply Centre

Expansion Days, at U.F.A. Lethbridge are over, and they were very successful. The sale was on for three days, March 5, 6, and 7.

There was a good turnout, including ladies, children, and even non-farmers. All were welcomed with refreshments served by Kathy Clifton, hired for this occasion. Balloons were given to the children, door prizes awarded each day, and all seemed to have a good time.

Gordon Agar, Ward Smith, Lloyd Clark, and George Duffy came down for the event.

The addition was started in November when we had high winds, and each morning there was a layer of dust an inch thick on the floor. All we had to protect us from the elements was a plywood wall with a crack at the top (where the dust blew in). We felt very fortunate that we didn't get a foot of snow or 20 below weather while the building was in progress. The extension was to be completed by the end of December or early January.

There were many delays for one reason or another, and the job wasn't done until about the first week in February. Even then, there were a few finishing touches to be completed before the Expansion Days Sale.

Decorations were put up by Garry Withage, who got so involved and excited, he received a bad cut on the scalp when a display board of hydraulic fittings fell on him. However, he survived without any complications.

Randy Meroniuk, who had hurt his ankle while playing basketball in November, hobbled around on crutches and a cast until after Christmas, when he had the cast removed. (This also took place while the building was being expanded.)

While the display room was being filled with large items, (cattle chute, grain mixer, etc.), the large side doors had to be opened, and wouldn't you know, then the temperature was 23 below. That was uncomfortable !!!

All in all, it was an interesting time for us, and a lot of extra work went into making the sale a success.

CANADIAN FARM & RANCH SHOW

Over 37,000 farmers and ranchers attended the 3rd Canadian Farm and Ranch Show held in The Edmonton Sportex Building on March 24th to the 29th, 1969. This was almost a 50% increase over the number of people who attended last year. The show is held annually in conjunction with Canadian Western Rodeo and the Canadian Western Stock Sale. United Farmers had amongst many other items on display, W.W. Cattle Handling Equipment – Grain-O-Vator line of auger boxes – Myers Water Systems, cattle and hog waterers – hog feeding and pen equipment – aerovent and grain drying equipment – Patz Barn Cleaners – feeding systems – Universal Milking Systems – Hi-Si Silage Preservatives – Allied Chemicals Herbicides, and displays from the Petroleum Division of United Farmers and United Feeds.

Many of our members visited United Farmers' large booth to see the displays and to meet the qualified representatives that were on hand to answer their queries.
